

The future of medical specialist practice in Europe: challenges, perspectives, and aspirations

Old Parliament of Greece

Friday, 7th October 2022, 18.30 – 20.30

Chairs:

Dr Athanasios Exadaktylos, President of the Panhellenic Medical Association (PhMA)

Professor Vassilios Papalois, President of the European Union of Medical Specialists (UEMS)

18.30-18.45 Introductions (3 mins per speaker):

Welcome:

- Dr Exadaktylos, President-PhMA, Professor Papalois-President UEMS

Introductory comments:

- Dr Mina Gaga, Alternate Minister of Health
- Mrs Zoe Rapti, Deputy Minister of Health
- Dr Georgios Patoulis, Governor of the Attica Region via video
- Dr Emmanouil Kalampokas, Deputy Mayor for Public Health and Municipality Clinics in Athens
- Prof. Emmanouil Pikoulis, Dean of School of Health Sciences, National and Kapodistrian University of Athens.

18.45-20.00 Speakers (10 mins per speaker):

- Current challenges of specialist practice in Greece
Dr Charalampos Koulas, PhMA delegate to the UEMS
- The vision for the future of the Panhellenic Medical Association
Dr Athanasios Exadaktylos, President, PhMA
- Postgraduate training: building bridges between individual countries and European projects
Dr Andreas Papandroudakis, Vice-President, UEMS, Head of Delegation of the PhMA in the UEMS

- The role of the European Medical Organisations
Professor Romuald Krajewski, Liaison Officer and Past-President, UEMS
- The UEMS projects for real people in real life
Dr João Grehno, Secretary General, UEMS
- Targeted and efficient use of resources
Dr Othmar Haas, Treasurer, UEMS
- European integration: our biggest challenge, our historic destiny
Professor Vassilios Papalois, President, UEMS

20.00 – 20.30 Panel discussion with the participants-Proposals:

Chairs: Dr Athanasios Exadaktylos, Professor Vassilios Papalois

Panellists: Dr Athanasios Exadaktylos, Dr Charalampos Koulas, Dr Andreas Papandroudakis, Dr João Grehno, Dr Othmar Haas, Professor Romuald Krajewski, Professor Vassilios Papalois